THE PROJECT

Since 1984, the Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program has worked with some of the state's finest master folk artists to keep Missouri's artistic heritage alive and well. The Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program funds teams of master artists and apprentices who are committed to sustaining their artistic traditions and cultural heritage. Priority is given to teams who share the same cultural community. Priority is also given to living art forms with few remaining practitioners. The Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program seeks new applicants each year to better represent the spectrum of cultural communities across the state.

Missouri's Traditional Apprenticeship Program (TAAP), funded by the National Endowment for the Arts since inception, is coordinated by the Missouri Folk Arts Program with support from the Missouri Arts Council, a division of the Office of the Lieutenant Governor, and the Museum of Art and Archaeology at the University of Missouri.

KEY DEFINITIONS AND APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please read carefully before filling out the application.

I. KEY DEFINITIONS

Traditional arts: Also called folk arts, traditional arts are learned and passed on to the next generation informally by word of mouth, imitation and observation within cultural communities (family, ethnic, regional, religious, or occupational groups) rather than in formal academic settings. Traditional arts encompass many forms including crafts, music, dance, verbal arts and foodways.

Cultural community: A group sharing cultural, regional, ethnic, racial, religious, gender, age, and/or occupational bonds. Such groups share customs, heritage, and artistic expressions, which include the traditional arts.

Master artists: A traditional artist who is regarded by his or her cultural community and peers as a highly skilled and knowledgeable practitioner of that groups' traditional arts.

Apprentice: An apprentice possesses intermediate experience in the tradition (or a related art form), a strong desire to advance knowledge and skills in the art form, and commitment to its continuity.

II. APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. The master artist and apprentice must complete the attached application form. SECTION B is for the master artist, SECTION C is for the apprentice, and SECTION D is for both master artist and apprentice. Design the work plan to occur between November 1, 2022 and May 15, 2023.
